AMENDED COMPLAINT

JURY TRIAL DEMANDED

-----X
Plaintiff Jessie Engles, acting pro-se respectfully alleges upon information & belief:

PRELIMINARY STATEMENT

1. This civil rights action challenges the constitutionality of prisoners such as plaintiff who suffer with mental illness who is confined in the New York State Department of Correctional Services, (DOCCS). The New York State Office of Mental Health, ("OMH") and DOCCS defendants who are top policy making correction and mental health officials, have authorized policies and customs, which are "fatally arbitrary" in the constitutional sense in violation of 42 U.S.C. §1983, the Eighth and Fourteenth Amendments of the United States Consitution, 29 U.S.C. § 794, (The Rehabilitation Act), and 42 U.S.C. § 12132, (The American with Disabilities Act of 1990). Plaintiff alleges that the defendants act with deliberate indifference to the serious medical needs of plaintiff as well as others similarly situated by failing to provide adequate mental health services, including necessary inpatient and residential mental health programs, and by imposing disciplinary punishments which aggravate the mental illness of plaintiff. Defendants conduct discriminates against prisoners with serious mental illness on the basis of his disability and constitutes cruel and unusual punishment in violation of the law.

2. DOCCS and OMH do not provide necessary treatment opportunities and access to adequate programs for prisoners with mental illness. The failure to provide adequate treatment and programs have caused plaintiff who is a mentally disable person to psychiatrically deteriorate and to engage in behavior symptomatic of his mental illness. The Defendants deliberate indifference to the serious mental health needs of plaintiff as well as others in the prison system has resulted in a disproportionate high number of prisoners with serious mental illness being housed in the harsh and punitive conditions of disciplinary isolated confinement.

3. The experiences of plaintiff, typify what is wrong & unconstitutional about New York's disciplinary system, and the inadequate mental health treatment and programs causes serious, and sometimes permanent, mental and physical deterioration. Disregard of plaintiff as well as others with mental illness treatment needs harms him and poses both a burden and and a danger to the public at large, as he is more likely to experience homelessness, less likely to trust mental health care providers, and less likely to seek necessary mental health care upon release.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

4. This court has jurisdiction over these claims pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1331 and 1343. Plaintiff is entitled to declaratory relief pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 2202. Venue is proper in this district under 28 U.S.C. § 1391(b).

5. "DOCCS" receives federal funding to operate its correctional facilities, as well as office of mental health, and thus must comply with title II of the ADA, and section 504.

FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS

Inadequate Mental Health Care Programs and Resources

Overview

14. In New York State, the delivery of mental health care and treatment to prisoners with mental illness is the joint responsibility of the Commissioner of DOCCS and the Commissioner of OMH. The Commissioner of DOCCS, in cooperation with the Commissioner of OMH, is responsible for establishing programs for the treatment of prisoners with mental illness confined in state correctional facilities who are not in need of hospitalization but who require psychiatric services. N.Y. Corrections Law § 401.

15. The administration and operation of the treatment programs established pursuant to Corrections Law § 401, are the responsibility of the Commissioner of OMH, as is the operation of Central New York Psychiatric Center, ("CNYPC"). N.Y. Corrections Law § 401; N.Y. Mental Hygiene Law § 7.17.

16. The Superintendent of each facility is responsible for the supervision and management of the facility and the care, custody and safety of all prisoners under his or her immediate jurisdiction. N.Y. Corrections Law § 18.

Structure of the Mental Health Care System

17. The CNYPC provides both inpatient and outpatient services to the prisoners in DOCCS correctional facilities. Inpatient services are provided at the psychiatric hospital, CNYPC, in Marcy, New York. Outpatient services are provided at DOCCS correctional facilities through a system of OMH Satellite Mental Health Units and OMH Mental Health Units, each with a corresponding catchment area of correctional facilities.

18. OMH Satellite Mental Health Units are located in Eleven of the sixteen maximum security prisons. OMH Satellite Mental Health Units have full time staff and operate Residential Crisis Treatment Programs, ("RCTP") that serve all of the prisons within the Satellite Mental Health Unit's catchment area, including medium & minimum security prisons.

The RCTP consist of nothing more than observation cells and a dorm area where prisoners are stripped naked, provided two mats and a smock and left unattended within the Satellite Mental Health Unit. Prisoners in the RCTP receive no treatment or programs and either returned to their respective housing unit or facilities or committed to the inpatient unit of CNYPC.

19. Four maximum security prisons, which consist of only cells for twenty-three hour disciplinary confinement prior to the HALT bill, do not have an OMH Satellite Mental Health Unit. Each of those four maximum security prisons and seven out of 35 medium security facilities have OMH Mental Health Units, ("MHU"). The MHU's do not have any full time mental health or medical clinicians and require only a minimum of eight hours of psychiatric services per week.

20. Two maximum facilities have Residential Mental Health Units for seriously mentally ill individuals facing sanctions of disciplinary Special Housing Unit sanctions, ("RMHU") Marcy and Five points Correctional facility.

21. Fourteen medium and minimum security DOCCS facilities in the catchment area of an OMH Satellite Mental Health Unit or MHU have limited on-site mental health services including a part-time psychiatrist. Twenty-three medium and minimum security DOCCS facilities in the catchment area of an OMH Satellite Mental Health Unit or MHU have limited on-site mental health services but do not provide the services of a psychiatrist on site.

22. Intermediate Care Programs ("ICP") are located at maximum security prisons which have OMH Satellite Mental Health Units. ICP's are DOCCS programs that are jointly staffed by OMH and DOCCS. Prisoners housed in ICP's have been deemed unable to function in the general population due to the effects of a mental illness.

23. OMH utilizes a classification system which designates each mentally ill prisoner with an OMH "service level designation" of 1, 2, 3, 4, or 6, 1-S or 1-V. There is no level five. A designation of level 6 indicates that the prisoner "does not require or is not appropriate for Mental Health services," a level 4 indicates "need for and/or interest in psychotherapy," level 3 indicates "current or future need for short term chemotherapy for minor disorders such as anxiety, moderate depression, or adjustment problems," level 2 indicates

"psychiatric disorder," and prisoners in need of the highest level of care are designated a level 1 or 1-S or 1-V. Level 1 indicates "heighten level of care" medication monitoring by psychiatric nurse," "Serious Mental illness" "admission to CNYPC," day treatment program (AVP, RMHU or ICP)," or placement in a Satellite Unit or "RMHU" bed. OMH treatment Needs/Service Level Designation Form 167.

24. Prisoners such as Plaintiff are frequently switched from one OMH needs level classification to another, from therapeutic housing in an ICP setting to more restrictive non-therapeutic housing, and from one correctional facility to another. Such changes often drastically and inappropriately alter the mental health treatment provided or available to the Plaintiff.

25. Despite their legal obligation to do so, defendants have systematically failed and refused to consistently provide Plaintiff who suffer from serious mental illness with medically necessary mental health care, including but not limited to inpatient hospitalization when needed, and intervene in the administration of alternative disciplinary sanctions, and intermediate level mental health care within the prison. Even when Plaintiff clearly improve and benefit from treatment in a therapeutic environment, he is regularly returned to non-therapeutic housing and even to disciplinary confinement in twenty-three hour isolated confinement within the prisons before being transferred to a RMHU. As a result, and as set forth more fully below, the serious mental health needs of the Plaintiff as well as others similarly situated are not being met.

Insufficient Mental Health Care in RMHU

26. New York State confines close to 700 of its 6000 seriously mentally ill prisoners in twenty hours of isolated confinement in what they call the Residential Mental Health Unit, RMHU for level 1-S. These disciplinary confinement units are, in operation and effect, isolated SHU units.

27. In SHU and Keeplock, prior to the passing of the HALT bill, prisoners are confined in small cells for twenty-three hours each day. Single cells in DOCCS are approximately six feet by ten, (they range in size from between 48 and 62 square feet). The cells at Marcy and Five Points are eight feet by thirteen feet.

28. SHU prisoners are allowed out of their cells only four hours, if DOCCS decides to run the program alleging short of staff, which the program consist of watching movies, which Plaintiff suppose to have atleast six hours out of cell for programing and recreation which policy went into effect after April 1, 2022 after the passing of the HALT law.

29. In order to minimize their contact with others, RMHU prisoners facing SHU sanctions are made to eat alone in their cells, cannot see other prisoners from their cells, and are not permitted to] work at prison jobs, attend programs or engage in other rehabilitative activities.

30. Despite their known mental illness, Plaintiff is subject to DOCCS disciplinary sanctions and is frequently placed into these psychologically punishing RMHU's confinement housing areas. The Confinement of Plaintiff in the RMHU is equal to twenty three hour confinement areas which is known to exacerbate mental illness.

31. In the RMHU and in blocks where a majority of prisoners are under keeplock, the noise level inside is often deafening because prisoners with mental illness scream and bang on their cell doors and walls.

32. In the RMHU, the conditions are similar to SHU except we come outside our cells for a class room setting and are shackled to a chair, and have congregate recreation since the passing of the HALT law. Plaintiff as well as others must speak to staff, including mental health staff and other medical staff through the opening of the cell door.

33. Even though Plaintiff is confined to the RMHU under SHU sanctions, which suppose to be mental health housing, he has extremely limited opportunities to participate in any form of mental health therapy. Often, the only contact with mental health staff occurs during rounds when OMH staff walk through the housing unit or during program, which if they stop and talk during rounds it is always through the door of the cell and within earshot of neighboring cells and in the presence of other correctional staff.

34. Frequently the only treatment offered or available in the RMHU is medication, which is dispensed by a nurse who makes rounds in the RMHU. It is difficult for RMHU prisoners to discuss side effects from and concerns about medication because of the lack of privacy and because mental health staff who makes rounds in RMHU devote no time in meeting with patients. Plaintiff or others who may suffer from side effects, who feel depressed, or who may believe that they no longer need medications, often begin to refuse medications. Little is done to discuss or to encourage compliance with medication regimes. Prisoners who become non-compliant with ordered medication regimes frequently psychiatrically deteriorate without intervention by mental health staff, and indeed are dropped from the list of OMH patients despite their known serious mental health needs.

45. Plaintiff as well as others similarly situated who suffer from mental illness cannot tolerate prolonged, isolated confinement without significant, and often life-threatening, exacerbation of their mental illness. Solitary confinement even in the RMHU has a serious adverse impact on persons suffering from depression, schizophrenia and other psychiatric disorders and may cause drastic decompensation in such persons, including increased disorientation, delusional thinking, paranoid thoughts, suicidal thoughts and thoughts of self-harm, and self injurious and suicidal acts.

46. The lack of adequate mental health treatment to Plaintiff housed in disciplinary confinement in the SHU and RMHU isolated confinement intensifies his suffering and psychiatric deterioration.

47. DOCCS and OMH have persistently resisted identifying and even removing Plaintiff as well as others similarly situated prisoners with serious mental illness who psychiatrically deteriorate as a result of the stringent conditions of confinement in SHU confinement from the RMHU/SHU.

48. DOCCS and OMH have persistently resisted to acknowledge the deleterious effects of long-term disciplinary sanctions on the mental health of Plaintiff housed under the conditions in SHU and RMHU.

49. As described in detail below, the serious consequences of the failure of Defendants to restrict the placement of Plaintiff as well as other prisoners into, and their failure to intervene and to remove prisoners with mental illness from, disciplinary confinement in the SHU and RMHU has resulted in a disproportionate percentage of suicides within the population of prisoners housed in the SHU and RMHU's.

A Cycle of Torment of Adequate Mental Health Care Results in the Placement of Prisoners with Mental Illness in Isolated RMHU Confinement, Which in Turn Causes Greater Psychiatric Harm

50. As a consequence of the symptoms of Plaintiff's mental illnesses, he is unable of conforming to the prison regimen and rules. The lack of adequate mental health treatment makes this problem more severe and widespread.

51. Inadequate mental health treatment in the prisons results in Plaintiff suffering serious psychiatric deterioration and engaging in symptomatic behaviors which may include violent or assaultive behavior; acts of self-mutilation and self harm; attempts or acts of suicide; depression, isolation and withdrawal; failure to keep clean and other unhygienic behavior; smearing feces on themselves and their cells; setting fires, screaming, hoarding or refusing food; and flooding their cells with water from the toilet.

52. As a direct result of the defendants failure to provide adequate mental health care, the disciplinary housing areas of New York prisons are disproportionately filled with the mentally ill.

53. Once punished with SHU sanctions of confinement in the SHU and RMHU, Plaintiff as well as others with mental illness become even less able to conform to prison rules because their mental conditions worsen. As a result, Plaintiff who is suffering from his illness and is serving SHU sanctions in the RMHU, become subject to additional disciplinary sanctions including additional consecutive periods of isolated and restrictive confinement.

54. These behaviors, symptomatic of serious psychiatric deterioration, violate DOCCS rules for prisoner conduct. Plaintiff is frequently sentenced to periods of isolated SHU sanctions for engaging in such conduct.

55. Plaintiff as well as others enter a cycle of placement in SHU confinement; the consequence exacerbation of mental illness; extreme decompensation, often to the point of dangerousness to self or others; commitment to CNYPC; a return to prison and SHU confinement after only a brief stay at CNYPC; followed by a repeated mental deterioration in the RMHU leading to subsequent mental crisis or re-commitment to CNYPC.

56. Because DOCCS regulations imposed no upper limit on the duration for which mentally ill prisoners may be sanctioned with SHU sentences, or isolated confinement, many prisoners with mental illness such as Plaintiff spend years housed under these harmful conditions, isolated and virtually untreated, with many more years of SHU sanctions ahead of them.

Insufficient Emergency Mental Health Care in Observation Cells

57. Plaintiff as well as others similarly situated with mental illness who may have been identified to be at risk of suicide or to be in a danger to themselves or others, are secluded in observation cells in the prison Satellite Mental Health Unit's for twenty-four hours a day.

58. Prisoners held in observation cells are deprived of all their property and furnishings except for two mats on the floor, and a smock with no bedding or clothing.

59. Often the only treatment available to Plaintiff in observation cells is medication. No rehabilitative activities, therapy, or programs are offered.

60. Acutely mentally ill prisoners remain alone, almost naked, under these conditions for days and sometimes months before they are even considered for transfer to CNYPC for mental health treatment or simply are transferred back to their cell where they previously psychiatrically deteriorated.

61. Prolonged seclusion of acutely psychotic persons under these conditions in the observation cells present a substantial risk of serious harm and can cause increased disorientation, delusional thinking, paranoid thoughts, suicidal thoughts, thoughts of self-harm, and self injurious and suicidal acts.

62. The serious consequences of the failure of Defendants to restrict the placement of Plaintiff into, and their failure to intervene and to remove him from SHU confinement caused Plaintiff to try and commit suicide on or about 8/17/2010, where he was subsequently transfer to CNYPC.

63. Upon release from CNYPC, they indicated in a discharge plan that Plaintiff needed to be linked to psychiatric aftercare services which should include regular contact with a therapist, continual prescription of psychotropic medications, and regular visitations with a psychiatrist to monitor his medications and his overall mental status. He was discharged to Marcy SHU/RMHU.

64. Plaintiff deteriorated rapidly in the SHU/RMHU, Plaintiff became non-compliant with medication and received several misbehavior reports for incidents which were the result of his mental illness, and begun engaging to self-harm where he was written misbehavior reports and sentenced to consecutive days in the SHU. OMH did not intervene at his disciplinary hearing either to indicate that his behavior may have been due to his mental illness or to recommend that he be removed from SHU/RMHU confinement to a ICP.

65. Plaintiff accumulated several misbehavior reports resulting in cumulative SHU time, and was subsequently transferred from Marcy RMHU to Five Points RMHU then to Attica RMHU from 7/10/12 until 12/26/19.

66. Although plaintiff was unable to cope with the SHU/RMHU, OMH did not recommend that he be removed from SHU/RMHU, where he remained for several years, which removal would have made an over all improvement and management of care for Plaintiff who suffered from a serious mental illness.

67. Plaintiff has extensive mental health history that began prior to his incarceration.

68. On 8/17/10) Plaintiff became suicidal and cut his wrist and had to be transferred to CNYPC due to his self-harm, Plaintiff continues to follow a pattern of being housed in SHU/RMHU, significantly decompensating, being transferred to the OMH Satellite Mental Health Unit for brief periods primarily for the administration of long term stabilizing medication, and then being returned to the RMHU. No other psychiatric services have been made available to Mr. Engles to prevent his continual psychiatric deterioration in SHU/RMHU.

69. Plaintiff as well as others similarly situated with mental illness who receive SHU sanctions decompensate and become increasingly ill, but do not receive necessary hospitalization or other treatment for their decompensation. These prisoners may spend lengthy periods of SHU confinement while floridly ill without receiving treatment or release from their torment.

70. Because DOCCS regulations impose no upper limit on the duration for which prisoners may be confined to SHU, many prisoners with mental illness spend years housed under these harmful conditions, isolated and virtually untreated, with many more years of isolated confinement ahead of them.

71. While in the SHU/RMHU, Plaintiff accumulated misbehavior reports due to his mental illness resulting in cumulative time in SHU from 2011 until 2020.

72. Prison outpatient services available to prisoners with mental illness who are discharged from CNYPC fail to provide appropriate treatment and services to meet the prisoners known mental health care needs. Prisoner mental health staff frequently do not follow, or quickly modify, the treatment plan developed at CNYPC that directs the mental health treatment a prisoner should receive upon release back to the prison.

73. Prisoners like Plaintiff with mental illness for whom a therapeutic treatment program is clinically appropriate are barred from participating in the ICP's due to the lack of bedspace, their current or prior disciplinary history, or other non-clinical reasons. This failure to provide necessary intermediate mental health care for these prisoners with mental illness often results in increased psychiatric psychiatric deterioration, increased frustration trying to cope with the conditions of their confinement, increased incidents of misconduct borne of their inability to cope, and a decreased in programs and work opportunities.

74. DOCCS policies permit staff to use extreme SHU sanctions to punish individuals with significant mental illness, as a result, Plaintiff who has the least capacity to tolerate SHU sanctions for whom even a short time in SHU/RMHU would be weighty punishment-may nevertheless end up condemned to months or years in SHU suffering terrible consequences.

75. The Director of Special Housing Venettozzi has final policy-making and supervisory authority within DOCCS when it pertains to SHU sanctions. As director of SHU, and pursuant to New York law, he is aware of and has ultimate authority with regards to all SHU's. Commssioner Annucci and his staff periodically review these policies and customs. if he deems it necessary, Venettozzi and Annucci has the authority to cause DOCCS policies to be amended, adopted or repealed.

76. The Director of Special Housing and Inmate Disciplinary program, reviews, develop, implements, amends, and monitors DOCCS disciplinary policies and procedures and their consequences and reports to the Commissioner. The director evaluates statistical data to analyze trends and patterns in the disciplinary process. The director is responsible for staff training and supervision on disciplinary policies and procedures, and for developing a program of on-site inspections of the conditions of DOCCS SHU facilities. The director, along with staff under his direct supervision and guidance, review all appealed determinations of Tier III hearings and sustains, overturns or amends those dispositions.

77. Mr. Engles ultimately spend over 10 years in SHU/RMHU as a result of his disciplinary sanctions. Pursuant to DOCCS policies and procedures, no evaluation was conducted by Annucci, Venettozzi, or Mental Health staff to determine whether the extraordinary length of the confinement was causing severe and irreparable harm as the days in the SHU/RMHU turned into weeks, months, and years.

78. Mr. Engles life in the SHU/RMHU was drastically different from his life in the ICP and general population. While in the general population, Mr. Engles was afforded a range of activities and freedom that he took advantage of to prepare for life after he finished serving his criminal sentence.

79. Mr. Engles was able to gain valuable experience and skills preparing him for his eventual release. In the general population he was eligible to be placed on the waiting list for mandatory rehabilitative programs related to his criminal offense. He was able to educate himself further through reading and other activities. The availability of these rehabilitative opportunities was particularly important to Mr. Engles to help him prepare to positively contribute to his family and community upon release.

80. Mr. Engles also had access to social and interaction and mental stimulation that helped maintained psychological and emotional health and stability. He was able to exercise outdoors in the recreation yard. He was permitted to eat meals with other prisoners in the cafeteria, move around the prison facility, and visit the law library. He could watch television and stay abreast of current events. He was able to have personal possessions, including a radio, hotpot, numerous books, magazines, pictures, a personal jacket, personal shirts and sneakers, and other clothing.

81. On January 8, 2010, however, Mr. Engles access to all of these rehabilitative programs and other freedoms ceased when he was removed from general population and confined to SHU. Once in SHU, Mr. Engles became subject to the extreme deprivations of SHU confinement.

FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION

Cruel and Unusual Punishment in Violation of the Eighth and Fourteenth Amendment to the United States Constitution

82. By their policies and acts, defendants violate the rights of Plaintiff who suffer from serious mental illness to be free from cruel and unusual punishment as guaranteed by the Eighth and Fourteenth Amendment to the United States Constitution.

83. As a matter of policy and practice, defendants, with deliberate indifference, fail to provide Plaintiff with a serious mental illness with adequate mental health treatment and therapeutic housing options necessary to treat and to prevent worsening of his mental illness.

84. As a matter of policy and practice, and with deliberate indifference to his mental health needs, defendants impose periods of prolonged SHU sanctions upon Plaintiff with a serious mental illness which lead to the deterioration of his mental health.

85. By imposing periods of prolonged SHU confinement without regard to the deleterious effect that it will have on Plaintiff's mental health, defendants act with deliberate indifference to the substantial risk of serious harm to Plaintiff.

87. Defendants DOCCS and OMH are public entities as defined under 42 U.S.C. § 12131(1)(B).
